

Punj Lloyd bags contract worth $30.80 million

Leading infrastructure firm Punj Lloyd on Wednesday said it has bagged a contract for mechanical works worth $30.80 million (about ₹153 crore) from Singapore's SK Engineering and Construction. "Punj Lloyd has been awarded a contract for mechanical works for a value of $30.80 million... The said works shall consist of structural, mechanical and piping works forming part of the Jurong Aromatics Complex Project located at Jurong Island, Singapore," it said in a filing to the BSE.
